

Homelessness

Many people are so lucky to have what they need, others aren't. Many people in America need help from others. A lot of people do not have a home, but we can make a difference. We see people on the streets begging for money so they can at least have something to eat. We can make a difference by giving them some money so they can buy food.

The people we see living on the streets are there because they lost their jobs. We can help these people by offering them jobs. For example, if we see an employment sign at a store, we can talk to the manager to see if he would hire a homeless person to help out.

One day, we may need something from someone. If we have been good in life, God will be good, and award us. We will never know what will happen. Homeless people are everywhere. There are about 5 million people on the streets begging for money in America. Imagine how many homeless people there are in the whole world. Homeless people are people like us. The only difference is that they don't have any money, and they are very hungry. These people are very poor. They live under bridges and in parks. Their circumstances are not easy that might have caused them to leave their home.

One reason that there are a lot of homeless people is because they have problems at home. For example, some moms suffer too much at home, and then they can't take it anymore. They just decide to leave the house with their children. This causes them to be homeless. Now, they have to feed their children so they won't be hungry. Mothers that are homeless suffer a lot of things.

Kids of my own age leave their home because they have too many problems. They can't take it anymore. Many children live on the streets begging for money so they can survive. We are in America. We are supposed to help each other, be with each other, and respect each other.

Maria Benitez, 8th Grade, RYSS