

Homelessness

Homelessness is known in the U.S. because there were a lot of jobs lost due to hurricanes. We can stop homelessness by giving the people in the streets shelter or a base where all of the homeless people can go and get food and water. Homelessness started by some people being too lazy to go to school and do their work. They chose not to do this, and they did not get a good paying job.

We need to stop homelessness before it becomes a bigger problem. And I think that we should do more than just give a dollar to a homeless person, because a dollar will give him/her food for just one day, not the rest of his/her life. So, we need to stop spending our money on things that we do not need, and make a shelter for the ones that need it.
