

Homelessness

One idea I have on helping the homeless is sending a letter to the Mayor of Houston so she can help them. I want this to stop because it is really sad watching little kids in the streets. It is not their fault to be like this. I really care about those little kids. I want to tell the Mayor to help these homeless children in the streets. Another thing I want to do is to raise money to help homeless people. It would be really cool if everybody would join together to make a campaign to help. It would be so nice if we could help these children. It is a really sad thing.

I want this country to be better. I don't like seeing homeless people in the streets. It would be a very good thing if there would be a center where homeless people could live and eat. Maybe a restaurant could feed them free two days a week. I would like to thank people who take homeless kids and feed them.

I really do want to help the homeless. Another good idea would be to make a law that would give shelter to homeless people, and send kids to a place where people could adopt them. I want this world to be better.
