

Homelessness

I feel sad because homeless people are living in the streets. We need to help them because some people even die because of living in the streets. We need to give them jobs and a place to live. We have a lot of homelessness in Houston, the biggest city in Texas. The homeless people sleep under freeways without beds. It is sad that we are living pretty good, and they are in the streets.

Mayra Rivera, 8th Grade, RYSS