

Homelessness

Many of us think that homelessness is caused by those people's failures. We think of them as bad people, but their situation is not always because of liquor or drug problems. Sometimes it involves not having enough money to pay for a house and the bills. And they don't have enough money to feed themselves and get clothing. Some of the homeless are veterans. Some of them have probably lost their job, and then can't find another job.

There is an old man that is always standing next to a light on a main road. He is not always begging for money because sometimes, he is asleep with his umbrella. He needs help. We could donate money to help build a center. We could send letters to the mayors of towns telling them to do something for the homeless.

There is a town that built this miniature town of small wooden houses about half the size of a classroom that can support at least four or five people. The homeless can live there for a couple of months. Maybe we could arrange to continue something like this for other towns. We could also plan picnics for the homeless. If we help out, maybe something could change.
