

Creating the future we want

“Imagine all the people living life in peace. You may say I'm a dreamer, but I'm not the only one- ...” John Lennon

I will stop war to make Earth a better place and peaceful without any violence or threat to human beings. I will also stop the damage to our beautiful planet we live on. I will stop pollution, recycle, use hybrid cars, etc. Earth can be a peaceful place with safe air to breathe, but everyone will have to cooperate. If we recycle, we can really stop using so much space for landfills, and even make playgrounds out of the recycled plastic. We may even have a safer ocean for the animals. We can make school buses and metro buses hybrid, so we can breathe safe air. Not only are we helping ourselves, but also wildlife. We hurt wildlife so much by polluting, and taking their land for our garbage we could have recycled.

Let's stop war. Does it even matter in the end who wins? We are all the same. We just come in different sizes and colors. We always fight for the dumbest reason, for example religion, color, immigration, racism, territory, to see who's better. When we have war not only are we losing our troops, but we are also breaking families apart. This is just the saddest thing. Let's say one of your family members was killed in a war, you wouldn't like that, right? What's up with all the countries arguing with each other? Can't we all be mature enough to forgive, and forget? Maybe it's too hard, or it would show weakness, but there would be worldwide peace.

We should also have more kids studying, and getting their degrees so they can have full careers. Yes, there are some kids that can't afford college or university, but they deserve a chance. There have been more dropouts these past few years than ever before. One reason for this is because their parents won't let them go due to money problems.

Let's also feed the poor, supply them with clothes and an education. They deserve a chance. We could, and should end world hunger. We lose too many kids every day in Africa and other places because they have no food or clothes. We have everything, and don't even take advantage so we can help others.

We need more jobs so there won't be unemployment. We complain about Mexicans taking jobs away when they really work hard for it. People just complain. If you really want a job, you'll look for one before someone takes it.

Let's make Earth a safe place.
