

I honor my whole family because we take care of each other. And I honor my mom the most because she helps me when I need something. And I honor my stepfather too because even though he is not my real father, he likes me very much. He buys me good clothes. And we are never out of food because my mom and stepfather take good care of us. They work hard. And I honor my uncle too, because when my mom and stepfather don't have work, he helps us.

My mom is so responsible. That's why she always succeeds. My mom is so responsible with me and my brothers. That's why I love her so much. Responsibility means someone who takes care of his belongings. Every person has to be responsible. If you aren't responsible, you will never have a job. If you are responsible, you will always be successful and honored. Some people who are not responsible live in the streets. Everybody needs to be responsible.

My mom always commits to paying the bills. Sometimes I commit to play with my brother. Most of the time, I commit to myself that I'm not going to misbehave.

A good citizen always helps out his country, and tries his best to represent his country. Every citizen has the right to vote in the United States.
