

Honor

Honor is when someone respects you. Honor is like respecting someone. Honor is high respect. You trust someone.

Commitment

The act of committing is when you commit to something. I commit to do a good job.

Responsibility

Responsibility is like turning in your homework. I was responsible one time. This man lost his wallet, and I returned everything. He had his ID and credit cards.

Citizenship

Citizenship is the state of being vested with rights. It is helping others. You help others, and they help you.
